DETAILED ACTION

- 1. This Office Action is in response to the application filed on 10/18/2001.
- 2. Claims 1-29 are pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-2, 4-9, 11-14, 16-17, 19-22, 24-27, 29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Mueller.

As per claim 1, Mueller discloses setting a main processor to run in a debugging mode (Fig. 1 and col. 4 lines 26-42); said main processor transmitting said debugging information word to a keyboard controller; and transmitting, by said keyboard controller, said debugging information word using a secondary bus coupled to said keyboard controller (Fig. 1 and col. 3 line 5 to col. 4 line 42).

As per claim 2, Mueller discloses wherein said keyboard controller and said main processor communicate by way of a main processor bus (Fig. 1).

As per claim 4, Mueller discloses said secondary bus (Fig. 1) and said secondary bus also inherently communicates with a battery that provides electrical power to said main processor.

As per claim 5, Mueller discloses said main processor transmits debugging information words to said keyboard controller only when said main processor operates in said debugging mode (Fig. 1 and col. 3 line 5 to col. 4 line 42).

As per claim 6, Mueller discloses additionally comprising receiving, by a converter interfaced to said secondary bus, said debugging information word transmitted from said keyboard controller (Fig. 1 and col. 3 line 5 to col. 4 line 42).

As per claim 7, Mueller discloses additionally comprising said converter transmitting said debugging information word to an external receiver (Fig. 1 and col. 3 line 5 to col. 4 line 42).

As per claim 8, Mueller discloses said debugging mode is a kernel mode of an operating system (Fig. 1, "Operating system Kernel 12").

Claim 9 is rejected for the reason set forth in the rejections of claims 1 and 8.

As per claim 11, Mueller discloses wherein said secondary bus interfaces with an adapter that receives said information words from a computing device external to said computer (Fig. 1 and col. 3 line 5 to col. 4 line 42).

Claim 12 is rejected for the reason set forth in the rejection of claim 5.

Claim 13 is rejected for the reason set forth in the rejection of claim 8.

Claim 14 is rejected for the reason set forth in the rejection of claim 4.

Claim 16 is rejected for the reason set forth in the rejection of claim 1.

Claim 17 is rejected for the reason set forth in the rejection of claim 2.

Claim 19 is rejected for the reason set forth in the rejection of claim 5.

Claim 20 is rejected for the reason set forth in the rejection of claim 7.

Claim 21 is rejected for the reason set forth in the rejection of claim 9.

Claim 22 is rejected for the reason set forth in the rejection of claim 2.

Art Unit: 2122

Claim 24 is rejected for the reason set forth in the rejection of claim 5.

Claim 25 is rejected for the reason set forth in the rejection of claim 7.

Claim 26 is rejected for the reason set forth in the rejection of claim 21.

Claim 27 is rejected for the reason set forth in the rejection of claim 4.

As per claim 29, (see Mueller, Fig. 1 and col. 3 line 5 to col. 4 line 42).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

- 4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:
 - (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 3, 10, 15, 18, 23, 28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mueller, U.S. Patent No. 5,463,764.

As per claim 3, Mueller does not explicitly disclose wherein said secondary bus is an inter-integrated circuit bus. However, an inter-integrated circuit bus was well known in the art at the time was made. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to incorporate the teaching of the well-known knowledge into Mueller to have said secondary bus be an inter-integrated circuit bus because one would want to utilize various types of communications channels to meet the requirement of various types of systems.

As per claim 10, Mueller does not explicitly disclose wherein the secondary bus does not interface directly with said main processor. However, various types of communication channel was well known in the art at the time was made. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to incorporate the teaching of the well-known knowledge into Mueller to have the secondary bus not interface directly with said main processor because one would want to utilize various types of communications channels to meet the requirement of various types of systems.

Claim 15 is rejected for the reason set forth in the rejection of claim 3.

Claim 18 is rejected for the reason set forth in the rejection of claim 3.

Claim 23 is rejected for the reason set forth in the rejection of claim 3.

As per claim 28, Mueller does not explicitly disclose the secondary bus additionally communicates with a graphical pointing device. However, a graphical pointing device was well known in the art at the time was made. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to incorporate the teaching of the well-known knowledge into Mueller to have the secondary bus additionally communicates with a graphical pointing device because it provides a user friendly interface to facilitates the communications between the user and the system.
